To whom it may concern,

Firstly I am not an American citizen but do have to suffer the constant barrage of poor products from Microsoft ( It is my profession to alleviate the problems other people have with Microsoft software ).

We constantly see America being portrayed ( by yourselves through your media ) as a land of truth, justice and democracy. America is the torch bearer for the concept that a free economy can heal all the worlds ills. Your decision has shown that all these claims are totally unfounded, money comes before all else and nothing will get in it's way, the end result of a free economy is corruption, consumers/citizens are only there to be exploited, technology is to be exploited, not for the further advancement of the humanity but for the financial enrichment of a company at the expense of the advancement of humanity.

You have done yourselves proud.
